EXPERIENCE

Full Stack Developer At Grupo Montecristo / DrMax

Grupo Montecristo-DrMax / July 2026 - Current

- I participate in the development and maintenance of software for the DrMax sector as a Full Stack developer, working across backend, frontend, and databases. I use C#, CSS, and MySQL to support internal solutions, adjust interfaces, work with database information, and contribute improvements that make processes clearer, more stable, and easier for the team to use.

FullStack Dev at University

Cenfotec University / September 2022 - December 2025

- During my studies, I developed websites with React, from basic design to implementation. I also built backend services with Java, C++, and C#, understanding how different tools interact with databases and software architectures.
